STOCK AND CROP.

—At Shelbyville, thirty Jerseys sold at auction from $35 to $129.

James Ferguson's premium pony sold in the Tranter-Kenney sale at Lexington, for $160.

—The Texas cotton crop is estimated at about 92½ per cent. as compared with that of last year.

Hibler Bros. purchased a bunch of yearling heifers Friday from Jas. Ferguson, at 3¼ cents.

—The agent of the Continental Tobacco Co., at Carlisle, has bought 16,000 pounds of new tobacco at 10 cents a pound.

—Howard Wilson, of Clark county, has bought from W. H. Renick, of this city, 24 feeding cattle, weight 1,050 pounds, at $60.

—J. W. Newman bought from different parties 1,500 bushels of corn at $1.75 delivered at the depot at Versailles. He is shelling it there and loading it in cars.—Winchester Sun.

—The Kentucky Supply Company sold one car load of clover seed on the track at Danville for $5.25, and five cars of millet seed to Louisville and Cincinnati parties at 65 cents on the track at Danville.

—Scott Hudson, the Lexington trainer, campaigned sixteen horses during the season just closed, and it was the biggest winning stable of the year, it having won a total of $85,445, an average of about $5,345 per horse.

—A public sale of short-horns was held at Lexington Saturday. Prices ranged from $35 to $285. The highest price paid was by S. C. Carpenter, of Millersburg, for Ida Wild Eyes, a 2-year-old heifer by Kirklevington, out of Hinxtion Wild Eyes.

—Elkin Hunt sold to J. L. Brown 109 barrels of corn at $2 per barrel. J. L. Brown bought of W. M. Robb a lot of stock ewes at $2.50 per head. Christie G. Bush sold a bunch of 209 pound hogs to Owen & Azbill at 5½ cents, and a bunch of 150-pound shoats at $5.40.—Winchester Democrat.

—James D. Parker, a wealthy farmer of Nicholas county, died on Sunday, aged about 70 years. Funeral this morning at his residence at 10 o'clock, burial at Carlisle. He leaves a widow and two daughters. Deceased was a member of Company C., Ninth Kentucky Cavalry (Breckinridge) and was one of the best citizens of Nicholas.

—The reason why in so many cases hens fail to lay well in winter and warm weather is that they need plenty of green food. It cannot take the place of grain, as it is of low value, but as an adjunct to the grain ration and to keep the fowls healthy, a plentiful supply, both in Summer and Winter, is necessary. Beat leaves, turnip and carrot tops are also good in Summer, but nothing seems to be relished as much as lettuce.

—S. K. Nichols, of Paris, Ky., has bought Miss McLaughlin from Martin Dovie. She is 8 years old and is by Sir Dixon, out of Rene d'Or, she by Lelans. She is the maternal ancestor of The Commoner, now at Belle Meade Stud in Tenn., and upon which a price of $41,000 has been set. The same person sold to A. J. Ganey, the 8-year-old mare Miss Doyle, by Sir Dixon, out of Cammie F., she by Imp. Glueig. She is with foal to Mammon, a son of the mighty Hanover.

AMUSEMENTS.

"A MODERN MAGDALEN."

Thrilling with human interest is the description given Haddon Chambers' play, "A Modern Magdalen," which will be presented here Wednesday night by the Amalia Bingham special company. Enjoying a three-months' run at the Bijou Theatre, New York, to a discussion of crowded houses, this drama created the wide spread discussion of crowded houses, and its powerful presentation left an impression among discerning theatre-goers that has spread broadcast over the country. "A Modern Magdalen" is said to be a play in which the deeper passions are touched upon and is replete with intense and passionate scenes that enthrall the auditor, surfeited with the "book made" play and the flimsy and cheaply constructed melodramatic material which has lately inundated the country. Nothing has been left undone in the point of production and accessories, and the scenery and properties are tastefully and ornately executed, and the feminine contingent will no doubt be pleased in the marvelous display of gowns by the ladies of the company.

—The curtain will rise at the performance of a "Modern Magdalen," at the Opera House, to-morrow night, after the wedding, thus affording all to see the splendid show.

HERALD SQUARE STOCK CO.

—The Herald Square Stock Company will be seen at the Grand Opera House, in this city, for three nights and a matinee, beginning on Thursday night, next The Danville, Ky., Courier, in speaking of a performance given by this company, on Nov. 14th, says: "The Herald Square Stock Company opened with a weeks engagement at the opera house Monday night to a good sized audience. The show seems to be making a good impression if liberal applause has anything to do with it. The specialties which are features of the show are good. In illustrated songs Mr. Harrison is a winner, being compelled to respond to several encores every night. McEnroe and LaPorte are out of the ordinary with their clog and fancy dancing and Prof. Ritter with his moving picture machine is a special feature. His views are the most distinct and artistically colored that has been shown in this city."

COMMENCING TO-DAY,

TUESDAY, NOV. 18th,

Mr. M. NAHIGIAN

will have on display an elegant line of

ORIENTAL RUGS.

His assortment this time is much larger than that of last year.

You are cordially invited to inspect these RUGS, even if you do not buy.

Sale will close Saturday evening, November 22nd.

Respectfully,

J. T. HINTON.
